Stupid enough they looked, certainly, but there was much more of the sheep than of the wolf in their physiognomy .-Each held a crucifix in his hand, and each had a priest beside him; who prayed incessantly. Their responses were fervent, and there was an agonising earnestness in their tone which was dreadful to hear. As the cortege moved slowly through the throng, there was no longer any of that levity perceptible which had shocked me a few minutes before. Everybody-men and women -seemed to sympathize with the criminals, and I noticed lips moving, as if some among the spectators were offering up prayers for their souls. There was a pause when we cines was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by reached the foot of the scaffold, and the priest recited more and longer prayers. in Persia and the Holy land. While going down theriver Euphrates, he experienced a seccre attack of Fever and Ague. On liscovering his condition, one of the Boatmen took from his person an Amulet, saying, "Wear this and no Fever will touch you." Although incredulous as to its virtues; he complied, and experienced immediate relief, and has since always found it an effectual protection from all malarious complaints.

On further investigation he found that the boatman attributed to it mirneulous powers, and said that it could only be obtained from the Priests of the Sun. Sometime afterwards, the gentleman in convers ng with a Priest obtained from him the seeret of its preparation, and ascertained where the medicinal herbs were found, of which it was compounded.
